OUR USERS

Teenagers and young adults aged between 15 – 25 years old.

The reason we have chosen to focus on this age group is that teenagers and people in their early 20's are just beginning to find out who they are and what type of person they want to be. With the social media being the main platform of how people share and show their lives, it has been apparent that sharing everything online doesn't always have a positive feedback.

Our project aims to reduce the negative aspects associated with online sharing, to help let young adults and adolescents enjoy more of their youth. However, thanks to social media, anyone, from any age, can use social media platforms, with just the simple click of a button.
